Course Code:	219901	Marks: 100	Credits: 4
Course Title:	History of Bangladesh; Language, Culture, and Identity		Hours: 60

Course Objective:

This course is designed to help undergraduate students from diverse academic backgrounds develop a comprehensive and nuanced understanding of the historical development of Bangladesh, with a particular focus on its language, culture, and identity. By critically examining a variety of historical events, socio-political movements, and cultural shifts from ancient times to the contemporary period, students will have the opportunity to trace the evolution of the Bengali nation. The course aims to foster informed citizenship through an exploration of the Liberation War, identity formation processes, cultural heritage, the lives and contributions of key political figures, and the roles of ethnic minorities. Ultimately, the objective is to equip learners with the intellectual tools necessary to contextualize current national debates and to recognize the role of youth and globalization in shaping the future of Bangladesh.

Course Learning Outcomes:

At the end of the course, learners will be able to:

CLO-1: Recall key historical events, dates, movements, personalities, and cultural developments that contributed to the emergence of Bangladesh from the pre-colonial period to the present day.

CLO-2: Demonstrate an understanding of the socio-political, linguistic, and cultural influences that shaped Bengali identity and nationalism, emphasizing the Language Movement, Liberation War, and subsequent democratic uprisings.

CLO-3: Apply their historical and cultural understanding to interpret contemporary national issues and debates relating to identity, political reform, and cultural transformation in Bangladesh.

CLO-4: Analyze how historical events, political ideologies, and social changes are interconnected in shaping the current socio-political landscape of Bangladesh, with a particular emphasis on the roles of movements, minorities, and the youth.

<tr><td>Paper Title</td><td colspan="4">Microeconomics</td></tr>
<tr><td>Course Description</td><td colspan="4">Microeconomics is a core course for the undergraduate students of the BBA program under Marketing department, which carries 4 credits and 60 hours of effective teaching in 30 weeks. The course grades will be assessed through participation, group discussion, class presentations, quiz, assignments, two midterms, and comprehensive examinations. This is an elementary-level course for applying the economics concept in the field of business.</td></tr>
<tr><td colspan="5"></td></tr>
<tr><td colspan="5"></td></tr>
<tr><td>Course Objectives</td><td colspan="4">The purpose of this course is to provide you with a basic understanding of the principles of microeconomics. At its core, the study of economics deals with the choices and decisions that have to be made in order to manage scarce resources available to us. Microeconomics is the branch of economics that pertains to decisions made at the individual level, i.e. by individual consumers or individual firms, after evaluating resources, costs, and tradeoffs. When we talk about "the economy," then, we are referring to the marketplace or system in which these choices interact with one another. In this course, we will learn how and why these decisions are made and how they affect one another in the economy. Each of the following units has been designed as a building block, where the concepts you learn in one unit will enable you to understand the material you discover in the next. By the end of this course, you will have a strong grasp on the major issues that face micro economists, including consumer and producer behavior, the nature of supply and demand, the different kinds of markets and how they function, and the welfare outcomes of consumers and producers. You will also be able to apply the formal principles you learn to real world issues.</td></tr>
<tr><td>Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)</td><td colspan="4">Upon successful completion of the course a student will be able to:

<table><tr><td>CLO-1</td><td>Understand how households (demand) and businesses (supply) interact in various market structures to determine price and quantity of a good produced.</td></tr><tr><td>CLO-2</td><td>Represent demand, in graphical form, including the downward slope of the demand curve and what shifts the demand curve.</td></tr></table></td></tr>
</table>

	CLO-3	Understand the links between production costs and the economic models of supply, Represent supply, in graphical form, including the upward slope of the supply curve and what shifts the supply curve.
	CLO-4	Understand the efficiency and equity implications of market interference, including government policy.
	CLO-5	Understand how different degrees of competition in a market affect pricing and output and apply economic reasoning to individual and firm behavior.
